GREENSBORO TELEGRAM.

VOL. VIII. NO. 44. GREENSBORO, N. C., THURSDAY, MARCH 28, 1901. Price Five Cents.

HIGH POINT, NO. CAROLINA

P. P. P.—Push, Progress, Prosperity.—P. P. P. P.—Patriot, Poet, Portrait Painter—David L. Clark, Esq., Her Gifted Citizen.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

Men must see in order to appreciate. Hearing won't do. There is, I am informed and believe, more machinery for the manufacture of wood in High Point than elsewhere in the South and I believe in the country at large. Go and see it. Plate glass to be converted into looking glasses, wardrobes, bureaus, etc., and knobs for same are received here by the entire car load.

But High Point appreciation is not confined merely to the material, dividend declaring good of this life. Her appreciation of and affection for her first citizen—David L. Clark, Esq.—is manifested everywhere and by all her good people. Mr. Clark's fund of interesting reminiscence is surpassed by that of no man of my acquaintance. That he is an artist of the highest merit the walls of Guilford Battle Ground Museum attest conclusively. We invite the Daughters of the Confederacy to inspect here the portraits of Washington, Greene, Penn, Hooper and our beloved and lamented Vance and others before passing upon the merit of the different artists of the State.

Long may David L. Clark live! and long may he and his interesting little city continue to grow fat and prosper.

A RECENT VISITOR.

Lost But Found.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Mebane came from Asheville on the late train and walked from the depot to the residence of Mr. Mebane's parents on Ashe street. Shortly afterwards Mrs. Mebane missed a breast pin containing a very valuable setting of diamonds and pearls which she remembered to have worn while on the train. Immediate search was instituted but it could not be found, and this morning the search was renewed but without avail. Mr. Mebane then came down and had an advertisement inserted in The Telegram offering a reward for its return. Shortly afterwards however, Mrs. Mebane's maid found the pin in the room where it had been laid away. Mrs. Mebane was glad to regain it for aside from its intrinsic worth it was valued on account of its associations.

A "Passing Party."

The young ladies of West Market Street church will give a "Passing Party" at the residence of Dr. Stockard on West Market street tomorrow night. The party will be a unique one, each person present bringing the article they are most anxious to get rid of, they will "pass it on" and in their turn receive the object another person wishes to get rid of. Seasonable refreshments will also be served.

During the evening a program of music will be rendered. The music is under the direction of Miss Lola Carraway. which in itself is a guarantee of its quality.

An admission of ten cents will be charged, the proceeds to be applied to the debt of West Market church.

Strawberries.

At the home of Mrs. Watlington 356 S. Elm, tomorrow afternoon, from 3 to 10, will be served the last afternoon tea before the reports go in on Saturday for the debt of West Market church. The first strawberries, which are especially fine, will be served with whipped cream. French coffee cream, an entirely new feature, will be served. The usual salads, etc., will also be served.

Mr. C. H. Ireland went to Winston this morning.

Col. W. H. Osborn, of the Keeley Institute, went to Winston on the early morning train.

New York, March 27.—Michael Brosio, twenty-eight years old, of 394 First street, and Dominico Jorio, thirty-one years old, of 395 Third street, Jersey City, fought a duel in Third street this morning. Both men are dying in the city hospital.

Brosio and Jorio came from Italy a few years ago and brought with them a feud. They met at one o'clock this morning at the head of Third street, where there are vacant lots. Residents in the neighborhood were startled by hearing a number of revolver shots.

Policemen Luruey and Burges found Brosio lying in the hall way of No. 394 First street, in a pool of blood. He had been shot in the left breast. In Third street, not far from the scene of the duel, the police found Jorio, with bullet wounds on the head and in his left breast.

AGUINALDO IS CERTAINLY CAPTURED

FUNSTON HAS BROUGHT HIM IN

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY IS PLEASED AND DEWEY MAKES COMMENT.

The Latter Praises Funston and Says the Capture Ends the War—Aguinaldo Now in Jail—Funston's Folks Take a Happy Turn.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Manila, March 28.—In the capture of Aguinaldo one insurgent Major was killed.

Important papers were seized by General Funston.

Aguinaldo was brought before General McArthur at 3:10 this afternoon, and lunched with the American officers. He was then taken to jail.

Aguinaldo seems ignorant of recent events.

ARRIVED AT MANILA.

Manila, March 28.—General Frederick Funston's daring project for the capture of Aguinaldo in his hiding place in the province of Isabela, island of Luzon, has proved completely successful. Aguinaldo was captured there March 25. The United States gun-boat Vicksburg, Commander E. B. Barry, with General Funston and Aguinaldo on board, arrived here this morning.

OTIS GLAD TO HEAR IT

Chicago, March 28. General Ewell S. Otis was awakened this morning with the news that Aguinaldo had been captured by General Funston.

"I am very glad to hear it," said General Otis. He added, however, that he made it a rule never to be interviewed after he had once retired for the night and he smilingly refused to say anything further.

BRYAN WANTS TIME TO THINK UP SOMETHING.

Lincoln, Neb., March 28.—W. J. Bryan was this morning informed of the capture of Aguinaldo, and asked for an expression of opinion. He said he preferred to wait until there was more complete verification of the report. Mr. Bryan did not doubt the accuracy of the Associated Press bulletin, but said so many previous reports had proven without foundation that he believed it wise to postpone communication.

WASHINGTON NOT OFFICIALLY NOTIFIED.

Washington, March 27.—Official news of the capture of Aguinaldo had not reached the War Department up to a late hour tonight. The President had retired before the Associated Press bulletin arrived, and will hear the news for the first time in the morning.

THE NEWS AT HOME.

Washington, March 28.—The citizens of Lola, Kansas, the home of Funston, heard the news of Aguinaldo's capture this morning with great rejoicing.

President McKinley was much pleased with the capture when he was informed at the White House this morning.

Gen. E. S. Otis, at Chicago, expressed satisfaction.

Secretary Root and General Corbin will hasten their departure for Manila.

Sixto Lopez in an interview in Boston, says that the Filipinos will continue fighting, remarking "There are Others."

END OF THE WAR SAYS DEWEY.

A New York dispatch says that Dewey paid a glowing tribute to Funston and said that the capture of Aguinaldo means the end of the war.

All who will take part in the Cantata "Christ the Victor," are urged to attend the practice at West Market Street church tomorrow evening, and to be present promptly at eight o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly desired that there may be a full rehearsal.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

Representative McCleary Considers War Inevitable.

Washington, March 27.—Representative McCleary of Minnesota, who has always taken a deep interest in foreign affairs, regards the latest news from the Orient as most momentous. According to his view of the situation it will be only a master stroke of diplomacy that war between Japan and Russian can be averted.

"The friction between Russia and Japan over the Manchurian question," said Mr. McCleary this morning, "has reached that point where fire is produced. The diplomatic game which has been in progress for nearly a year to keep intact the Chinese empire is fast drawing to close. This seems evident by the publication of most of the correspondence between the powers. Japan has never forgiven Russia for the advantage taken by the latter when the treaty of peace was signed by Japan and China. And now, before the completion of the Trans-Siberian Railroad, it would seem to be the golden opportunity for Japan to strike at the Russian bear. On the other hand I think it will be conceded that Russia is better prepared for war than she has been for several years.

"A war with Japan over Manchuria would have the effect of quieting Russia's internal dissensions, for it would at once arouse the patriotism of the very element that, according to the press reports, is on the verge of insurrection. Russia feels the necessity of having Manchuria, because with out that outlet her great continental railroad will have been constructed in vain. So you see the Russian diplomats have never for a moment lost sight of the immense value of Manchuria. Russia also wants Korea. This Japan understands full well and is really the bone of contention between them. So far as Manchuria itself is concerned, Japan does not care. But there must be some excuse for antagonizing Russia, so the wily Japs play Manchuria against Korea.

"In the event of war between Japan and Russia which may come now, at almost any moment, the United States would of course be neutral. I don't think any other European power would become involved, provided assurance was guaranteed that their rights would be preserved."

CROWNINSHIELD'S ORDER.

Flurry Created in Diplomatic Circles in Washington.

Washington, March 27.—Rear Admiral Crowinshield has caused something of a flurry in diplomatic circles by an order just issued which prohibits the giving of information to any of the foreign naval attaches unless they first make application to the head of the Bureau of Navigation personally. Heretofore the attaches have been accustomed to go to the heads of the different bureaus for information desired. Many of the attaches, it is said, will not go to Admiral Crowninshield, and have informed their home government of the new order.

Until a few years ago all foreign naval attaches were invited to witness the armor trials at the proving station at Indian Head, and also the tests of new guns. It is said that if the Crowninshield stands foreign governments may retaliate and refuse American naval attaches all informattion of a naval character.

None of the heads of bureaus would discuss the matter today, but it is understood that Secretary Long does not favor the new rule and will take steps to have it revoked.

"It was very noble of you, Willie, to plead that your brother be spared a whipping."

DISCOVERY OF A CRIME.

Remains Unearthed that Tell a Woeful Tale.

Poultney, Vt., March 27.—Workmen removing a cellar wall under a dilapidated building just north of the bridge that crosses Fair Haven river, a quarter a mile above Carver's Falls, have apparently unearthed evidence which solves the mystery of a murder which occurred 70 years ago. The discovery was made by accident, the laborers having fallen into a pit while trying to lift some heavy stones. The pit was about eight feet deep, with a solid stone wall about 20 inches thick surrounding it. In the centre of the pit was set a solid iron post attached to which was a heavy iron chain and an old fashioned pair of handcuffs. Near by was a heap of human bones.

Inquiry disclosed the fact that in 1831 Perry Borden, a young Frenchman, brought his young wife to Poultney to live in the house wihch the workmen are tearing down. She was witty and vivacious and attracted considerable attention. In a short time Borden became jealous of her and forbade her visiting a certain tavern nearby. The wife would not submit to be dictated to. One night in November, 1831, she was at the place when at about ten o'clock Borden called for her. She left the place with him. She was never seen by her friends after that. Mr. Borden said his wife had deserted him and fled to Canada. After a year Borden went away and was not heard of again until 1882, when he suddenly re-appeared in town. He said he had been at sea for the 50 years he had been away. His mind seemed shattered. He went to the little house and remained two years, neighbors supplying him with provisions. He finally became sick and the town took charge of him. He died in 1887 and was buried in the potter's field.

The discoveries made by the workmen have led every one in this vicinity to believe that Borden chained his wife inthe underground cellar and left her to die a horrible death.

DEATHS AND HEIRS MIXED.

Wrong Persons Got Estate of Man Who Didn't Die.

Hanover, Pa., March 25.—The unusual story of a man, supposed to be dead, returning home to find his estate divided among people believed to be his heirs, but really no kin whatever, and the appearance of his rightful heirs in a distant state, comes from Bendersville, west of here. About fifteen months ago, a man who was known as Jacob Hart, died in Ohio, leaving an estate of considerable value to be divided among his brothers and sisters, whose whereabouts were unknown. After a diligent search the executor found a family of Harts living near Bendersville, whose brother, Jacob Hart, had gone to Ohio many years ago, since when all trace of him had been lost, and he was thought to be dead.

No evidence seemed to be lacking to prove that the Harts of Bendersville were the rightful heirs of the man who died in Ohio, and in due time the Hart estate was divided among them.

The executor had just returned to Bendersville and informed Squire Samuel Wampler, who had transacted the necessary business in this State, that Jacob Hart, who had gone from that section from Ohio, had called upon him when he learned of his supposed death, and proved that the man who died under his name was unknown to him.

The executor was obliged to refund the amount of the estate to Hart which he had distributed among the Harts of Bendersville, and his visit now was for the purpose for collecting for the Pennsylvania claimants the amounts he had paid to them. This was found impossible.

Tea Raising.

Atlanta Constitution.

During the past few days a company has been organized under the laws of the state of North Carolina for the purpose of trying the experiment of raising tea in that state, and a tract of six thousand acres has been purchased near Charleston on which to begin the industry this season.

Only about one thousand acres will be put immediately under cultivation, but the remainder will be enriched, ready for planting by next spring. Tea requires an exceedingly rich soil, but there seems to be no reason to doubt that the condition necessary to produce an excellant quality of the leaf can be supplied by proper attention. However, it is doubtful if tea can be produced as cheaply in this country as in China, for while negro labor will be employed in its production, negro labor is not by any means as cheap as Chinese labor. Still if the quality of the leaf is superior, it will warrant an increased cost and will find an eager demand in the American market.

If the experiment proves successful, the company will raise as much as 300,000 pounds of tea per annum, and so confident are they of satisfactory results that they are already negotiating for the purchase of additional lands.

On somewhat smaller scale tea has already been successfully cultivated in many parts of the state, but no effort has yet been made to cultivate it in anything like the manner in which is projected at present, and the outcome of the experiment will be waited with very great interest.

Georgia's Giant Sycamore Tree

Atlanta Constitution.

Dougherty county now lays claim to the champion big tree of Georgia. It was discovered several weeks ago by employees of the Red Cyprus Lumber Company who are engaging in cutting timber. It rears its head from the midst of a thick swamp where hardwood trees abound, and to this is due the fact that it was not discovered sooner.

This giant of the swamp is a sycamore. It is on a little knoll, and except in seasons when a great deal of rain had fallen its trunk is not reached by the water. A foot from the ground its trunk is forty-four feet in circumference. For twenty feet above the ground the body of the great tree is round and symmetrical, but at this point it branches into four sections, any one of which would make a giant tree if standing alone. The four arms of the big sycamore do not spread out as would seem natural, but reach skyward, almost perpendicularly. The tree is pronounced by all who have seen it a curiosity, and places "in the shade" all known trees in Georgia

THURSDAY, MARCH 28.

PEACE SURE ENOUGH!

There has been for a day or two no doubt as to the resultof the vote on the question of the guilt of the two Supreme Court judges so long on trial for alleged high crimes and misdemeanors.

The Democratic party has shown that it cannot be led blindly at the will of its extreme partisan members and that it really desires peace. Now if the Republicans desire peace as they have said, let them show it by their acts. Let them cease fighting the amendment and stop the persecution of Democratic registrars. Democrats have sacrificed a partisan advantage for the sake of decency and justice. Let the Republicans show a like spirit.

Then we shall have peace sure enough.

In the appointment of his old townsman, Prof. J. Y. Joyner, of the State Normal and Industrial College, as a member of the Text Book Commission, Gov. Aycock has made an excellent selection. Prof. Joyner is most eminently qualified for the importatnt work attaching to this position. He can view the problems from the standpoint of the student and college professor no less than that of the practical school man who undertsands the necessities of the common schools.

It was published some time ago in The Telegram on authority which at the time appeared correct, that Guilford was included in the bill providing primary elections for certain counties if they were desiredby any political party therein. A note from General Glenn informs us that Guilford was not included in the bill. We are glad of this.

Current Topics.

In St. Louis, where street car transfers are good only within an hour of the time of their issuance, an ordinace has been introduced in Councils to compel the companies to place a clock in every car. The companies make no allowance for the mistakes of conductors in punching the time on the transfers, and the object of the proposed legislation is to enable passengers to call the conductors to account when they err.

Evidence that money or goods were obtained from a man by charging him with a crime and threatening to expose him is held by the Supreme Court of Nebraska to be sufficient to establish the crime of robbery.

In the dialect of Greater New York a "siller" is one who is always at the window; "to sill" is to lean over the window sill and watch the happenings in the street, and "silling" is the act of continually leaning over the window sill. These words are the outgrowth of the elevated railroad system.

Dr. H. F. Gray, of Los Angeles, Cal., is said to have purchased five million acres of agricultural lands in Mexico and to have obtained a concession from the Mexican government for the establishment of a number of Mormon colonies thereon. These lands are divided into several large tracts, which are situated in the states of Durago, Tamaulipas, Coahulia and Vera Cruz. He says that he will take six thousand Mormons from Utah and other parts of the United States to Mexico within the next few months and locate them upon the lands which he has purchased. The Mormon colonies in the State of Chihuahua have had their population increased by the arrival of over two thousand Mormons from Utah during the past few months.

Death of Miss Nichols.

Communicated.

The many friends of Miss J. D. Nichols, of Philadelphia, will sincerely grieve to hear of her death which occurred March 21 at her home on W. 26th street. She was taken very ill on the 13th with appendicitis and peritonitus and though an operation was performed on the second day, it was of no avail and after a week of agony she passed quietly away.She has friends in the south,many of whom not knowing her personally, have become attached to her through her letters which were always bright and cheery. She was a most competent commissionaire, giving prompt, careful, conscientious attention to the smallest and most insignificant order. Having known her personally I feel that not only has a fine noble woman gone from us but a strong and true friend as well.

Married His One Thousandth Couple.

Bristol, Tenn., March 25.—The Rev. Alfred Harrison Burroughs, noted as the parson of Bristol's matrimonial mecca for Virginia elopers, married his 1,000th couple this afternoon, dating from the establishment of his altar ten years ago. The couple who had the distinction of being married at this time were William Dalton and Miss Lena Akers, the latter being eighteen years of age. They eloped from Wythe county, Va. It was their second effort to evade the parents of the bride, she having been captured in her first attempt to get away from home.

Giving Them Notice.

Clerk of Court Nelson sent out today about sixty letters to Justices of the Peace appointed by the Populist Legislature two years ago. Their term of office expires on April first, and this notice is served on them to prevent confusion.

The music rendered by the orchestra at Wright's music store on yesterday evening was very fine, and was much enjoyed. Another pleasant feature of the occasion was a recitation by Miss Susie Stone. The bill of fare included turkey, fried chicken, and salmon salads, cake and ice cream. These luncheons will continue to be furnished every day from 12 m. to 10 p. m., through Saturday. On Saturday again there will be turkey. Remember that these sales are to aid in the liquidation of church debt.

At West Market Street church next Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock will be held a special Palm Sunday service. The church will be appropriately decorated, and special music will rendered by an orchestra besides music by the choir and congregation. During this service full reports on the church debt will be made. The program will be published later.

A meeting of the men of the Baptist congregation is called to be held in the West Washington Street church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the church.

FATHER OF THE SKYSCRAPER.

Designer of the Modern Steel Structure—The Latter's End Still Unknown.

Where land is so valuable that every square inch represents a dollar or more, business blocks must go into the air instead of spreading over the ground. By the old methods of building it would be hard to carry a structure higher than five or six stories, unless the walls were made as thick as a fortress. So a man with an imagination struck out a new method, embodying in steel an idea that is working a revolution in the business centers of cities.

Like other wonderful developments of recent years, the sky-scraper has become so common that to some it may seem commonplace, says the Youth's Companion. Yet George A. Fuller, the designer of it, was only 49 years old when he died in Chicago the other day. Indeed, it is only a few years since the improvement in elevators made it possible to rent offices ten or more stories above the street; and almost simultaneous was the decline in the price of structural steel to a point which enabled builders everywhere to gain the advantages offered by the steel-frame construction.

Chief of these is the fact that a skyscraper may be carried to almost any altitude, like the St. Paul building in New York, which is 26 stories high, and rises more than 300 feet above the street level. Such a building yields an enormous rental. There are no massive walls to reduce the rental space. Tenants willingly pay high rates for the light and airy offices. The structure shelters as many persons as a whole township, and it provides facilities and conveniences few towns could afford.

Whether the steel skeletons will ultimately corrode and crumble, time will tell. At present we know the skyscrapers are practically fire-proof, and seem beyond the power of any recognized agency of destruction. If it shall prove that the designer of them did not build for the twenty-first century, it must at least be admitted that he served his own generation well.

HUMOR IN THE AMBULANCE.

Doctor's Story of the Ride of a Man and Woman with Broken Legs.

"When I was an ambulance surgeon," said the young family physician to a New York Sun reporter, "I used to start like a fire horse at the sound of the call. I was just as much interested in the work at the end of two years as I was the day I began. It was the excitement of the life that made me so fond of it. I had all sorts of experiences at all sorts of hours. There was an element of danger in it too, but that only added to the charm.

"One night I had a call from the West side in the neighborhood of Chelsea square. It was for a drunken man who fell down and broke his leg. On the way back to the hospital with him I picked up a drunken woman to whom a similar accident had happened. There was nothing to do but put her in the ambulance along with the man.

"After that the ride across town was exciting enough for a cowboy. At first the patients sympathized with each other. Then they began to cry in chorus. At Broadway they fell to kissing each other. At Third avenue they were fighting like a pair of Kilkenny cats, and I had my hands full in keeping them apart. The woman had scratched the man's face dreadfully and he had nearly closed her eye with a punch. When we struck the asphalt in Twenty-sixth street they were singing: 'We have all been there before, many a time,' and such singing! The uproar attracted a crowd who evidently thought I had an ambulance full of lunatics. When we reached the gate they swore eternal friendship and at the office they parted in tears."

TO BE A FAMOUS HEALTH RESORT

The Wonderful Curative Properties of Vade Mecum Water.

A gentleman who lives in the immediate neighborhood of the Vade Mecum Spring tells the Danbury Reporter that many improvements are going on at the new watering place. He said that eight or ten cottages had already been erected, and that 34 are contracted for to be completed by the first of June.

An artificial lake, covering several acres, is to be made, and a hotel and store are to be built. He added that the Vade Mecum is to take the lead the coming season and that thousands of gallons of the new water are being shipped all over the world. Excellent roads are being constructed from the Springs to the railroad at Rural Hall, large forces of hands being engaged in the work. The great interest which seems to be centering in this water of our neighboring county has caused us to inquire into its history and real merits. It seems that about the breaking out of the war the celebrated Geologist S. W. Dewe, of Massachusetts, a relative of the Admiral, was prospecting in the Saure Mountains, the only place on the North American continent where Ita Columite, flexiable sand stone, or "limber grit" is found, for diamonds. The one is generally found with the other.

Near the north wall of this rugged range in the bed of South Double Creek, one mile above the mouth of the Dan, he discovered a great stream of water, bursting up from the bed rocks of the creek. He turned the creek aside and advised the neighboringmountaineers that the water was worth more than the diamonds or the iron, in which this region was believed to abound. It was only at intervals that the water was accessable, but numberless diseases gave away to its healing power. Visitors to Piedmont and Moore's began to learn of it and its analysis and purchase followed at once. No quiet single event has created a more profound impression than did the publication of this analysis on Sept. 14th, 1900. North Carolina, abounding in all resources and especially in minerals, has nothing to compare with it. Here is more than one hundred grains per gallon of rare and valuable minerals and so happily blended as to become at once a specific for most of the ills which afflict the human family. It invites comparison with the waters of Saratoga, West Baden, Tates, Bath County, Va., or other American waters.

There probably never has been such a record of cures and beneficial results from the use of mineral water in the same period of time. By some it is pronounced "A gift from mother nature's own hand," others "carry it with them when they travel," "I have tried the skill of physicians and of other standard water, but nothing can compare with Vade Fecum." "I eat more, sleep more, weigh more, work more, than ever before in my life." So it runs a long book of grateful testimonials and every day growing larger, until facts seem fiction and fiction seems facts, The outpour of this water is said to be 20,000 gallons per day. With such a vast quantity of water and yet such a phenominally high percentage of minerals, what vast deposits of wealth must be stored away in this highly favored, but long neglected region.

Here was the home of the Saure tribe of Indians who gave their name to the mountain, and the name of their great chief Dan-aha, to the river Dan.

The scenery is all that nature can make of a happy blending of mountain, valley, lake and stream.

The distinguished landscape gardner, Prof. C. T. Colyier, of Asheville, who laid of the grounds, pronounced it equal in beauty and picturesque grandure to any spot that he had ever seen on the American Continent.

Easily accessible to the Southern Railway from Rural Hall, Kings, Pinnacle, or Pilot Mountain, nothing can prevent the rapid growth of a resort and watering place such as North Carolina has not known. But it is not alone at the Spring that the healing virtues of this great remedy will be offered to the thousands who cannot visit a watering place.

The water is being shipped daily by the proprietor, Vade Mecum Spring Co., Winston-Salem, N. C., and we understand that our enterprising druggist Gaston W. Ward of Greensboro, has secured the agency of this city. The former owner of the Spring, W. H. Vaden, having been cured of several aggrevated diseases, in selling the same reserves the right to use the water forever. He like all others who has once used it is unwilling to use any other, whether sick or well.

His name suggested the Latin phrase Vade Mecum, which means go with me, a constant companion, indespensable.

We believe its merits will bear out the meaning which its name suggests.

Among the many testimonials that have been offered, we have space for only the following:

G. W. Ward, Druggist, Greensboro, N.

Dear Sir—Vade Mecum has cured me of indigestion, and headache resulting therefrom.

Have used a variety of mineral waters but the above is the best I have found. Truly,
G. W. WHITSETT, D. D. S.

Greensboro, N. C., March 26.

I take pleasure in saying that I have used the water from the Vade Mecum Spring, Stokes County, N. C., with very great benefit. I have recommended it to many others and I believe they have received great benefit from it also.

From the analysis and my individual experience I believe it possesses great curative powers and should be freely distributed over the whole country that the people may easily procure it. Truly,
R. K. GREGORY, M. D.

Greensboro, N. C., March 26, 1901.

Vade Mecum Springs Co., Winston, N. C.

Gentlemen—This is to certify that for the last six months I have been constanly drinking Vade Mecum Spring water and I feel now that I must have it all the time.

My health is better than it has been for 20 years. I eat more, sleep more, weigh more, work more and in every way I am in fine fix, all of which I believe honestly is due to the water I am drinking, and I recommend it with pleasure to all those who suffer from indigestion, constipation, etc.

Yours truly,
GARLAND E. WEBB,
Ex-Mayor of Winston, and Secretary and Treasurer Chamber of Commerce, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Winston, N. C., March 1, 1901.

Gentlemen—After using forty bottles of the Vade Mecum Water, I am prepared to say that for indigestion, sluggish liver and acidity of the stomach, with which I have been troubled for months, I find it the most satisfactory of all mineral waters (Lithia, Sulphur and Tate's) I have used. I am not prepared to discontinue itst use yet. I have no trouble with the ailments mentioned, yet I want to let the recovery be complete. I have never felt better in my life, and I am hopeful that my cure is complete. I allow no opportunity to pass in which I can help you and humanity. I will continue the use of the water for some time to come. I thought Harris Lithia could not be excelled, but Vade Mecum knocks it out. I am enthusiastic in its praise, and recommend it to all sufferers from above named ills. Find enclosed check for which ship me a barrel at earliest convenience.

A COLD SNAP.

Sir Gray Wolf stole from his cosy den
One winter day cold and dreary;
Said he: 'I"ll rush to the farmer's pen,
And a fowl I'll get for my dear'e."

But alas and alack! For his every plan
The farmer that morn had carried,
And set a trap in the path that ran
To the den where Sir Gray Wolf tarried.

"Aha! Aha!" laughed Sir Gray Wolf loud,
"I'm surely an easy winner,
And won't my wife be smiling proud
When I take her a fowl for dinner?"

He walked right into the jaws of steel;
"Experience rare hath taught me,"
He tersely said, "And I know and feel
That another cold snap has caught me."

After He Comes

he has a hard enough time. Everything that the expectant mother can do to help her child she should do. One of the greatest blessings she can give him is health, but to do this, she must have health herself. She should use every means to improve her physical condition. She should, by all means, supply herself with

Mother's Friend.

It will take her through the crisis easily and quickly. It is a liniment which gives strength and vigor to the muscles. Common sense will show you that the stronger the muscles are, which bear the strain, the less pain there will be.

A woman living in Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "Mother's Friend did wonders for me. Praise God for your liniment."

Read this from Hunel, Cal. "Mother's Friend is a blessing to all women who undergo nature's ordeal of childbirth."

REMARKABLE CURES OF RHEUMATISM.

Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C.

The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instnat benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatismin thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and geting up free from pain. For sale by A. E. Holton's drug store.

The stomach controls the situation. Those who are hearty and strong are those who can eat and digest plenty of food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. If you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, belching or any other stomach trouble, this preparation can't help but do you good. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. Howard Gardner.

WORKING NIGHT AND DAY.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. HAMLET'S CASTLE.

Something About the Home of the Famous Dane at Elsinore, Denmark.

Jacob A. Riis, the New York poverty expert, lived as a child in the neighborhood of the castle of Kronborg, Elsinore, Denmark. He has revisited the place in recent years, and his early and later reminiscences are embodied in an article called "Hamlet's Castle," which appeared in the Century.

In 1573, as a first step toward making it fit for a king to live in, Frederik II. "swept it clean of all hurtful people and animals," meaning, by the latter, vagrant swine and dogs. How his broom worked on the "people" is instanced by the treatment of outcast women under the edict. They were to be whipped and branded by the headsman, and turned out. If they came back, both their ears were to be cut off. If after that they were again found within the gates of the city, the order was to stuff them into sacks and throw them into the sound. Four years of this sort of thing was supposed to have cleared the ground, and the erection was begun of Kronborg—the "crown castle." That was the name, said the king, and for miscalling it "Flounder" or "Hook" any man was to pay him the value of one fat steer. Long before its gray walls had risen to half their height the new name stuck, and when it was finished, in 1585, the steer revenue had ceased to be of account.

Of the revelries that attended the opening of the castle it may well be that the echoes ring yet in Hamlet's description of "this heavy-headed revel," which to his mind is "more honour'd in the breach than the observance." For in that year there played at Elsinore a troupe of strolling English actors, which for all we know with certainty to the contrary, may have included young William Shakespeare himself, come fresh from poaching upon Sir Thomas Lucy's preserves to seek his fortune among the playhouses in London. The old town records contain two references to them. One is a mere entry of the expenditure of four skilling "for the repair of the board fence between the house of Lauritz, town clerk, the town hall and yard, which the people broke down the time the English played in the yard." That was in 1585, and may have been on the occasion of the opening festivities. The troupe came back later and stayed some time. Little did the clerk who entered into the municipal accounts the cost of its play and keep dream that he was making a notable contribution to the history of the greatest of all tragedies.

The Papal Income.

A recent letter from Rome in the Philadelphia Ledger states that the pope's income for 1900 amounted to $4,375,000, nearly two-thirds of which was income for securities and Peter's pence. The expense account of the holy father for the same year is figured at $1,099,000, of which $483,000 represents salaries. The remainder of the account includes the expense of keeping up the vatican, the repairs at St. Peter's, charities, and contingent expenditures and losses. The most notable item in this account is the personal expense of the pope himself, which amounts to $2,500, showing that he lives a simple life. There will be a balance of over $3.000.000 to be added to the contingent fund which now amounts to over $30,000,000, a large part of which is in American securities. The satisfactory condition of the papal income shows that Leo XIII. is a more thrifty man and a better financier than his predecessor.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by C. E. Holton.
